COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

President Asks More Aid For Yugoslavia

Seeks $85 Million To Assist Country Resisting Soviets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—President Truman has called for emergency action to keep drought-crippled Yugoslavia and its powerful armed force from falling back into the Moscow fold.

And officials said today he may ask Congress when it meets Nov. 27 for some $85,000,000 to further strengthen the morale of that one Communist country that has broken with Russia.

In a message to key congressional leaders of both parties, Mr. Truman said that Yugoslavia's Marshall Tito "controls the largest fighting force in Europe, and these forces constitute an important element in the defense of Western Europe against Soviet aggression."

Asks For Help

Since Tito broke with other Communist nations in the Moscow-controlled cominform group, he has sided with the west of a number of issues while frankly asking western nations to help him combat Soviet pressure.

The U.S. export-import bank has granted his country industrial loans totaling $55,000,000 during the past year. Yesterday the economic cooperation administration announced that emergency shipments of $11,500,000 worth of flour will be started shortly to meet food needs brought on by an extreme drought.

George V. Allen, U.S. ambassador to Belgrade, had reported that many Yugoslavs faced starvation because of the failure of grain crops.

Stressing the need for meeting this situation, Mr. Truman said "the prospects are that if remedial measures are not begun immediately, Tito's ability to control subversive elements in Yugoslavia will be seriously if not fatally undermined, and the ability of the Yugoslavia military forces to withstand an attack by the U.S.S.R. or its satellites, or both, would be dangerously weakened."

Great Concern

"There is, therefore, great concern, from a military point of view, over this situation, and we are trying to find ways and means to extend necessary assistance to Tito without delay."

The White House made no announcement of Mr. Truman's message when it went out last week. It was made public last night by congressional sources. The President did not estimate the cost of the aid.

The State Department stepped up efforts to tighten bonds between Tito and the western camp last year when it sent Allen, a former assistant secretary of state, to the embassy post at Belgrade. Allen was successful in helping Iran keep clear of Soviet ties when he was ambassador to that Middle Eastern country from 1946 to 1948.

Revision Of Labor Law Urged By Morse

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—Senator Morse (R-Ore.) said today he is convinced that Congress will revamp the Taft-Hartley labor law next year.

A foe of the controversial measure from the start, Morse called for its repeal during his recent campaign for re-election. He won another six-year term easily.

Morse told reporters he still wants the law repealed and intends to fight for that during the new, 82nd Congress which convenes Jan. 3. He added, however, that there are some parts of it which could be incorporated in the substitute he would like to see enacted.

Whether that happens may well depend on whether Morse and Senator Taft (R-Ohio), a co-author of the present law, can get together on their ideas for revision.

JOY IS EVIDENT on face of Mrs. Constance Kretschmar Mock, Chicago, on learning she is one of two heirs to a $17,000,000 snuff fortune left by Mrs. Henrietta E. Garrett, who died 20 years ago in Philadelphia. Over two decades some 26,000 persons claimed the fortune, but courts finally decided legal heirs are Mrs. Mock and Wilson Primm Kretschmar, Greenville, Miss. Taxes will leave them only about $4,000,000.

Red China Brands U. S. As Aggressor

LONDON, Nov. 18—(AP)—Communist China's official radio has coldly brushed aside President Truman's assurances of peaceful intentions towards her and charged that the Americans already have "smashed their way" into Chinese territory.

A broadcast from Peiping, heard in London last night, caustically rejected America's "mixture of honeyed words and threats," and said the Chinese people "are not deceived by what they see through this curtain of lies and bellicosity."

The broadcast quoted President Truman at his Thursday press conference as saying the United States would respect Chinese territorial integrity, and declared such statements "are not convincing anyone here."

The Peiping broadcast asserted that U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson is "impugning that the Chinese could not possibly 'misunderstand' America's Pacific intentions." It added:

"Acheson can be reassured. There is no misunderstanding. America has lied and smashed her way across the world to Chinese territory and into it, has seized Chinese Taiwan (Formosa, stronghold of China's Nationalists) and is threatening another neighbor, Vietnam (Indochina where French troops are battling the Communist-led Vietminh rebels)."

Opera Debut A Hit For Pretty Soprano

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—All dreams came true last night at the Metropolitan Opera for pretty, dark-haired Roberta Peters.

With only last moment's notice, the little 20-year-old soprano walked onto the Met's huge stage and sang her way to a triumph as Zerlina in Mozart's Don Giovanni.

It was three lifetime "firsts" for Miss Peters, who is hardly out of school. It was her first stage appearance, her first concert and her first opera.

And, after her performance, it guaranteed her a first contract. Last January, the Met's new manager, Rudolf Bing, heard Miss Peters sing in an audition, liked her voice and added her to the roster for some tentative work.

Yesterday, only a few hours before the Metropolitan's first Don Giovanni of the season, soprano Nadine Conner was stricken with food poisoning and had to cancel her appearance.

Crazed Gunman Kills 5, Wounds Five Others

N. Jersey Salesman Caught After Attack On Wife's Family

VINELAND, N. J., Nov. 18—A slim young appliance salesman after hours of questioning today admitted he shot to death five members of his estranged wife's family and wounded four others in a crazed tour of three homes last night.

His "pleasant" face haggard and drawn, 25-year-old Ernest Ingenito told the state police troopers who had captured him:

"I did it and I don't want to talk any more about it." The oral statement was made to troopers Leonard Cunningham and Raymond Vorberg, who had seized Ingenito after an automobile chase down a country lane in the scrub pine flatlands of nearby Landis township four and a half hours after the slayings.

Ingenito was charged immediately with murder and held in jail without bail.

Shootings Reconstructed

A few miles away, authorities pieced together the story of the horror-filled moments that brought death to:

Michael Mazzoli, 44, Ingenito's father-in-law.

Mrs. Pearl Mazzoli, 45, Ingenito's mother-in-law.

John Pioppi, 46, uncle of Ingenito's wife.

Mrs. Theresa Pioppi, grandmother of Ingenito's wife.

Marion Pioppi, 28, John's wife.

Wounded were the gunman's wife, Tessie, 23; a nine-year-old cousin, Jean Pioppi; Frank Mazzoli, 35, Michael Mazzoli's brother, and Frank's wife, Hilda, 34.

Frank Mazzoli and Jean Pioppi underwent emergency operations shortly after being taken to Newcomb hospital in Vineland. All the wounded except Mrs. Ingenito were listed in critical condition.

The shootings occurred less than 20 miles from the scene of another massacre. On Sept. 6, 1949, Howard Unruh walked grimly down Camden's river road, killing 13 victims with a Luger pistol. Unruh, a war veteran, now is held in the New Jersey state hospital for the insane at Trenton.

State Police Capt. Howard A. Carlson said Ingenito was heavily armed when captured by the two troopers.

The two spotted a car answering the description sent out when Ingenito fled the scene of the slayings. The policemen forced the car to the side of the road and Vorberg held Ingenito at the point of a sub machine gun as he climbed out of the car.

In his belt, Ingenito had a .38 caliber pistol. In the car were a German-type automatic weapon, a .32 caliber pistol and a .32 caliber carbine. Police said the automatic had an attachment with extra bullets which made it in effect, a sub-machine gun.

Ceiling On Corporation Taxes Will Be Set

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—A member of the house and means committee predicted today that a ceiling figure based on all taxes a corporation has to pay will be written into the excess profits measure now being designed.

The member of the tax writing group, who asked that he not be identified by name, told a reporter he expected the limiting figure would be 60 or 65 per cent of a firm's overall profits.

This, he said, would have the effect of setting the total tax liability of business corporation from all levies—normal, surtax and excess profits—at the stated percentage of their profits.

Such a limit—either 60 or 65 per cent—would compare with an 80 per cent ceiling during World War II. At present, the corporate income tax rate is 45 per cent.

Sec. Acheson Raps Critics

Decides To Fight It Out With Foes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson has decided to fight it out with his Republican critics, some of whom want him fired.

This became clear today in the light of his sharp attack last night on post-election statements made by Senator Taft (R-Ohio). It was verified by Acheson's aides.

In last night's speech, Acheson said, without naming Taft, that he had read the "isolationist" has disappeared from the American scene and that a new figure has appeared, whom he called the "re-examinationist."

Taft, in post-election statements, said that "anybody is an idiot who calls anybody else an isolationist."

He called for a reexamination of the American program for rearming Western Europe.

Acheson spoke before the National Council of Negro Women. In an acridly humorous series of jibes, which drew frequent chuckles from his audience, he suggested a "reexamination" is the same thing as an "isolationist" and declared those who advocate such a course "incapable of the very foundations of leadership."

But the significance in the speech appeared to lie not so much in what he said as the fact that he said it. Ever since the election Republicans have been demanding his resignation on the ground that the voters had shown their lack of confidence in him.

His own Democratic party is reported to be divided—with some leaders considering him a political liability and other convinced he should remain in office. President Truman told a news conference Thursday that Acheson stays.

Yanks Tramp Ahead In Korea Unopposed

SEOUL, Nov. 18—(AP)—Tank-led American infantrymen thrust through a snow storm today toward the Manchurian frontier in rugged northeast Korea. The mercury was skidding sharply.

Only scattered rifle fire from nearby hills opposed the dough-boys of the U. S. Seventh division in the four-mile drive that carried them within two miles of burning Kapsan, 21 air miles south of the Red border.

AP Correspondent Tom Stone, with the Seventh, reported that the storm, dropping temperature and rocky terrain were the biggest obstacles. However, a field officer said: "we expect to make Kapsan tomorrow."

Smoke still was rising from the town from heavy Allied air strikes covering the advance. The Seventh division is the northernmost American unit on the slanting 250-mile front.

Elsewhere Red resistance evaporated. But on the western sector 100,000 North Korean and Chinese Communists were reported digging into a low mountain defense line south of the Yalu river's international power sites on the Manchurian border.

The Red objectives appeared on the basis of intelligence reports to be:

1—Let U. N. forces get ahead under harassment into the higher mountain gaps in the northeast where they might be tied down through the bitter-cold winter at the end of snowbound supply lines.

2—Resist on a 60-mile line running through uplands from Taechon on the southwest to the Tokchon and Chongchon river area.

Intelligence sources at Eighth army headquarters estimated about 28,000 Chinese in three division-size task forces are on the Taechon-Tokchon line with about 70,000 North Koreans. Other units are in supporting positions. There was no reported evidence of any Reds pulling back to the Yalu in that area 45 miles northwest of Taechon.

The Yalu power site area apparently is the point of greatest sensitivity for the Chinese Reds.

Contributions Listed In Political Campaign

A report of collections and expenditures of the Columbiana County Republican Finance Committee was filed Friday afternoon with the county election board by Sam Keener, committee chairman.

The report indicates a total of $18,258 was collected and $18,017.82 spent during the campaign for the Nov. 7 general election.

The amount greatly exceeds the $1,200 spent by the Democrats, as reported by Attorney Louis Tobin, Democratic county chairman.

Persons from all over the county contributed to the Republican cause, including residents of Salem, East Liverpool, East Palestine, Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia. The report is comprised of 58 pages of names and addresses of contributors.

Mrs. J. W. Astory of Salem, county Republican chairwoman, reported her committee had collected and spent the sum of $47.11.

Ohio Job Placements Drop During October

COLUMBUS, Nov. 18—Seasonal declines in canning and farming jobs caused an eight per cent drop in the number of jobs filled by Ohio's 81 employment centers last month, the State Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy said the bureau's local offices made 47,525 job placements in October, some 4,000 less than the September total.

Alliance Man Killed By Car

Andrew Daniels Hit Walking On Rt. 62

Andrew J. Daniels, 54, of R. D. 2, Alliance, was killed almost instantly at 11:40 p. m. Friday on Route 62 a mile east of Alliance when struck by a car driven by Donald K. Byrne, 23, of 204 W. Broadway st., Alliance.

Byrne told state patrolmen he was driving west on the highway when he suddenly saw a man in the center of the road and hit him before the car could be stopped. Daniels was dead on arrival at Alliance City Hospital with head lacerations, multiple abrasions of the body and fractures of both legs.

He had been employed at the Alliance Clay Products Co. as a kiln fireman. His wife and several children survive. Funeral arrangements are being made at the Cassaday-Turk funeral home in Alliance.

Critically Injured
Richard Bissen, 26, of LaCrosse, Wis. is in critical condition today at Youngstown South Side Hospital after being injured in a highway accident at 7:30 p. m. Friday on the Western Reserve road 3½ miles southeast of Canfield.

He was a passenger in the car driven by John Pethel, 46, of Lake Milton which ran into the rear of a truck operated by Billy W. Longanecker, 23, of Washingtonville. He suffered a possible skull fracture.

After crashing into the truck the car overturned at the side of the road, patrolmen said.

Pethel has multiple abrasions and possible fractures of the ribs. Longanecker received a sprained neck and bruised arm. They also were taken to South Side Hospital.

Charles Blumenstiel, 25, of R. D. 1, Deerfield, was arrested following a traffic violation which resulted in a two-car accident at 4:07 p. m. Friday on Route 62 in Damascus.

Patrolmen said Blumenstiel attempted to make a left hand turn but gave no signal and the car, driven by James Greier, 40, of R. D. 1, Beloit collided with the Blumenstiel vehicle. He was arrested for failure to give a proper signal.

Vishinsky Demands Red Plan Acceptance

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky warned the U. N. today it is useless to think of peace through the U. N. if the Russian peace plan is ignored.

The Soviet foreign minister told the U. N. assembly that it should have adopted the Soviet peace ideas, which were batted down by overwhelming majorities yesterday. He said the proposals for peace and abolition of atomic bombs adopted at a Stockholm peace meeting last spring, included in Vishinsky's plan, showed the will of the world to peace.

Vishinsky was the first speaker in a round of debate on Secretary-General Trygve Lie's 20-year peace program.

25 Per Cent Cut In Use Of Copper Hinted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—The National Production Authority notified industry yesterday it is drafting an order to cut civilian use of copper. Size of cut, not announced, reportedly will be 25 or 30 per cent. Copper goes into telegraph and telephone systems, radios, television sets, cars and many household appliances.

Long Campaign Finally Brings In $41,175.85

Reports At Meeting Monday Expected To Show Bigger Total

The Salem Community Fund Association drive today went over the top in its 1950 campaign to attain the $41,080 goal. The solicitations have been underway for five weeks.

Total receipts indicate $41,175.85 has been collected through pledges, contributions and public subscriptions, Stephen A. Gonda, campaign chairman, announced today. The sum represents a surplus of approximately $100 over the quota, the highest set in the history of Salem outside the war years.

Chest officials said the final figure may still be higher before the final reports for this year's campaign are given at a meeting for the contributors and chest workers Monday night.

Directors To Be Chosen
New directors of the Chest association are to be elected at Monday night's meeting to which the public is invited.

"Naturally, I'm pleased, and felt confident we would succeed," Mr. Gonda said of the campaign. "The people of Salem are always generous and have never failed for causes like this."

Mr. Gonda was exuberant in his praise for Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, campaign secretary, who worked diligently handling the receipts turned in; Eugene Young, vice chairman of the campaign, and John Hochadel, chairman in charge of industry.

"Of course, we can't overlook the work done by team captains and individual team members who did a bang-up job in the campaign," he said.

Eleven teams were formed at the outset of the campaign, with team captains chosen to head each one.

Participating Agencies
All 11 participating agencies in this year's drive stand to benefit the full quotas set for each, nine of which will get increases over last year's allotments.

The agencies and their respective allocations are: Salem Home Nursing Service, a new agency this year, $2,000; Salem City hospital, $9,000; Central Clinic, $4,000; Home for Aged Women, $1,500; Quaker City Band, $1,150; Girl Scouts, $2,700; Boy Scouts, $3,550; Memorial building, $9,720; Salvation Army, $3,375; Catholic Charities Bureau, $1,785; Associated Services for Armed Forces, Inc., which replaces last year's USO, $800, and administration and emergency, $1,500.

9-Day Old Phone Strike Stalemated

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—The nine-day-old telephone strike appeared to be stalemated today. The coast-to-coast Bell Telephone system said its long distance and local service was almost normal, despite partial picketing by striking Western Electric Co. employees of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA).

Mediation continued in New York, with federal conciliators slated to hold separate talks with the union's striking divisions and Western Electric—a Bell subsidiary.

The key issues are wages and contract duration. The union demands a 15-cent hourly pay boost and a one-year contract. The company's best offer has been 11½ cent boost and a two-year contract, adjustable for wages after 16 months. Present pay averages from $1.55 to $1.62 an hour. Legal restraints have stopped picketing in eight states and hindered it in several others.

The Unjust Servant

THEREFORE is the kingdom of heaven likened to a certain king, which would take account of his servants. One was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents. But as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. Then the lord was moved with compassion, loosed him, and forgave him the debt. But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow servants, which owed him an hundred pence; and he laid hands on him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

And his fellow servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. And he would not; but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

When his fellow servants saw what was done, they came and told their lord all that was done. Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me: Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee?

And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him. So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

(From St. Matthew, 18: 23-35.)

Senior High youth budget teams chairmen include Everett Crawford, John Schmid, Joanne Petras and Carol Middeker.

Luncheon for the workers will be held at 12:30 at the church. Rev. Frank O. Leonard of Youngstown will preach at 10:45 a. m. This will be the only worship service of the day.

Loyalty Sunday

Rev. John Bauman, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, announces that his congregation is participating in a nation-wide effort for a 100 per cent attendance Sunday in all congregations affiliated with the American Lutheran church. The congregations are located in 33 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

This Loyalty Sunday project was begun last year by the A.L.C. when its confirmed membership attendance on Nov. 20, 1949, reached 496,000. Attendance at Emmanuel church on that day was 407. This year it is hoped that the 100 per cent worshipers will come nearer to the 100 per cent goal.

A. M. E. Zion Concert

The Alliance Mt. Zion Baptist chorus will give a concert at 8 p. m. Sunday in the A.M.E. Zion church which is open to the public. Rev. C. L. Ransom is pastor of the local church.

Greenford Service

The Greenford Lutheran church will hold a Thanksgiving service at 10 a. m. Thursday. Rev. Arvid E. Kuitunen, pastor, will be in charge.

Revival Continues

Revival services at the Assembly of God Tabernacle will continue this week through Dec. 3. Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Pittman of Youngwood, Pa., are the special workers. Besides preaching, they also will assist with the singing.

Thanksgiving Service

A Thanksgiving service will be held at the Christian Science church Sunday morning. The lesson-sermon, "Thanksgiving," has for its text "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing." (Psa. 107:21,22.)

Thanksgiving Is Good For You

THURSDAY will be Thanksgiving Day and I want to give you a suggestion for that day which can be the turning point of your life. My thought is summed up in the title of this column: Thanksgiving is good for you.

Students of the dynamic power of thought are realizing the tremendous value of the practice of thanksgiving in producing healthier mental states and in making people happier. What I like to call "the attitude of gratitude" is what all of us need.

You can test this for yourself. How do you feel when you get up in the morning? Do you say things like: "I had a terrible night's sleep . . . I certainly made a fool of myself last night . . . Isn't the weather awful this morning? . . . Just look at these headlines in the paper; don't they worry you? . . . My, how my back aches!"

If that's the way you face the new day, you've sapped your energy 50 per cent by these remarks. You're licked before you start. And that isn't the worst of it. You've half-spoiled the day for your husband or wife or family too. Why? Because you've established a mental pattern of defeat and unhappiness.

ON THE OTHER HAND, suppose you get up with remarks like these: "I'm thankful for a wonderful night's sleep . . . Isn't it grand to see this lovely rainy day? There's something fresh and cool about rain. I like to feel it on my face . . . This news in the paper isn't too bad. Things are going better than I thought . . . And where is that old backache I had a week ago? It's all gone."

It makes you feel better just to read these words, doesn't it? Imagine, then, how much better you will feel if you say them (or words like them) every morning. Your family will beam and go off to work or school or household chores in a happy frame of mind. And how does this amazing change occur? It's simple. A depression thought pattern is replaced by a thanksgiving thought attitude.

In our religio-psychiatric clinic at the Marble Collegiate Church, we are continually prescribing for people the regular practice of the attitude of gratitude, the technique of thanksgiving. You may be interested in the method we advise them to use in praying.

We suggest an average of three prayers a day. In one prayer, you ask God for everything you want and need. Ask in His name so that you ask sensibly, but do ask for everything you feel you need. And that is the only time you are to ask for anything. Your other two prayers should be prayers of thanksgiving. Thank God for giving you what you need.

It's easy to remember: one prayer of petition, two prayers of thanksgiving. This is a technique that we have seen revolutionize the lives of hundreds of gloomy, discouraged, ineffective people.

ANOTHER WAY to practice the art of thanksgiving, and one we often recommend, is to sit down, take a pencil and paper, and make a list of everything for which you can be thankful. It is a valuable habit to make your thoughts concrete by getting them down on paper where you can see them. You will be astonished by the number of things for which you can be thankful.

Start out with something as simple as this: "I'm thankful I can push this pencil across this paper; some people can't because they have arthritis or some other infirmity. I am thankful that I live in the United States and can speak my mind; half the world is silenced behind an Iron Curtain."

Why, you could go on like this long enough to fill a ream of paper. Then take a good look at your list and laugh and sing and be happy.

Take my suggestion that you practice the art of thanksgiving regularly. It will change your life. And, on Thanksgiving Day, gathered with your loved ones around a plentiful table, be thankful that you are so greatly blessed. Why not ask everyone at that table to list the many things for which they can be thankful. I suggest that, after you have done this, you have everyone at the table bow their heads and thank God, who has done so much for you and your country. Make the day a real Thanksgiving by remembering that God is the author of every good and perfect gift.

For happier living, here's something to remember and practice: THANKSGIVING IS GOOD FOR YOU.

Safety Officers To Be Elected

County Committee Will Meet Monday

Officers for the 1951 Columbiana County Industrial Safety Campaign will be elected when the safety committee meets at 2 p. m. Monday in the assembly room at the Mullins Manufacturing Co. employment office.

Eighty-four companies throughout the county have participated in the accident-prevention campaign this year, the first for a county-wide industrial drive.

Reports of the first year's experiences in conducting the safety campaign will be given by the 1950 chairmen.

Each participating company was assigned to one of 12 groups and the frequency rate of the last time accidents was determined on a monthly basis for placing in these groups.

James P. Scanlon of Youngstown, safety advisor of the Ohio Industrial Commission, will report.

Harry Heckathorn, Mullins executive vice president, is general chairman of the campaign. Vice chairmen include: M. W. Thompson and R. L. Cawood of East Liverpool, Louis Probst of Salem, Ray C. DuBrucq of Leetonia, and Russell J. Barrow of Columbiana.

M. S. Schuller is chairman of the safety committee. Stephen A. Gonda is campaign secretary.

Other committeemen are E. G. Platt, Don Conkey of Leetonia; Everson Hall and J. T. Smith of East Liverpool; Robert Whitehill, Richard Wilson, R. E. Whiskey, all of Salem, and Mr. Scanlon.

Lausche Election Cost Him $28,000

COLUMBUS, Nov. 18—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche's successful campaign for re-election cost him $3,722 and his committee $24,507, according to reports filed with the secretary of state late yesterday.

Officials of Don H. Ebright's unsuccessful campaign to unseat Lausche said they would make their report today.

The Democratic state executive committee reported receipts of $38,922 and expenses of $36,609. Earlier in the day the Republican state finance committee listed these contributions to candidates or their committees:

Don H. Ebright, unsuccessful candidate for governor (Ebright for governor club) $55,000.

Independent voters for Ebright, $9,000.

Overloaded Trucks Said To Hurt Roads

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—(AP)—The nation's highways can't stand up under possible wartime traffic if truck loads are increased, a report by Ohio Highway Director T. J. Kauer says.

The report was read yesterday at an 11-state northwestern regional conference on highway safety and motor vehicle problems by William Van Breen, research director of the New Jersey highway department.

The report said "increased heavy loading might seriously disrupt the effectiveness of highly essential routes" in the event of all-out war and an upswing in truck traffic.

He based his statements on results of a $500,000 road test in Maryland, now two-thirds complete. Damage to pavement increases greatly when truck weights are raised, the report said. "The results already conclu-

AFL, CIO Ask Higher Tax On Industries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—The AFL and the CIO called Friday for a tougher tax on abnormal business profits than that proposed by President Truman.

While supporting the administration's call for an excess profits tax, the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations said the levy should be stiff enough to bring it up to $7,000,000,000 a year in new revenue. The President had suggested $4,000,000,000.

Both groups endorsed the suggestion of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder that the years 1946 through 1949 be used as a base from which to determine the amount of earnings that are excessive.

Post The Limit

OHIO Highway Director Theodore J. Kauer thinks truck weights on public highways have reached the limit. In a report to the northeastern regional conference on highway safety and motor vehicle problems he declared that "further increases in legal weights of commercial vehicles should be halted."

The fact is that truck weights have passed the limit, not reached it. While Director Kauer's report was being made, an Ohio state highway patrol check on overloaded trucks passing through Medina was yielding an average of a violation and a half per hour. These were cases of open violation of law. It is a question whether trucks operated inside the law are not too heavy for most of the roads they use.

The top limit for pneumatic-tired vehicles in Ohio is 19,000 pounds, 1000 pounds more than the limit under the law before it was changed by the current general assembly. No one knows what a safe limit would be in terms of ordinary highway construction; the subject is being studied carefully. But everybody knows that the weight and length of trucks and the way the trucks are operated have created a public issue.

No one in his right mind wants to handicap the trucking industry unduly. It is a vital part of public transportation. But no one in his right mind can be unaware that a public problem exists. Public highways also are a vital part of public transportation.

Certainly the solution of the problem is not in fining drivers for violating the law. They merely add the fines to their operating costs. Suspension of their driving licenses in many cases would merely work hardship on employees who do not determine the load weights of their vehicles. A more direct enforcement method would be to suspend the licenses of the vehicles themselves for abusing public property.

Adding a local touch, the sooner City Council takes action to divert heavy truck traffic from the downtown section the sooner Salem will arrive at a sensible approach to the traffic congestion problem. Divert the trucks from State street and you'll solve half the problem and save undue wear on the pavement.

Up To The Steel Workers

IN the fifth round of wage increases, now in progress, the steel industry is not setting the pace, for a change. Its problem this year is to hold the pace, as Benjamin Fairless, president of U.S. Steel pointed out Thursday before the American Petroleum Institute in Los Angeles.

Specifically, its problem is to keep its workers from going on another of the strikes which have cost 29,000,000 tons of steel production since the end of the war in 1945. That is more than a fourth of the tonnage the steel industry hopes to be able to turn out in 1952 when its present expansion program is completed.

Mr. Fairless told the petroleum institute that he believes the steel industry should hold the pace, meaning that it should be prepared to raise its prices enough to keep its employees abreast of developments in the fifth round. The rest, it goes without saying, is up to the steel workers negotiators.

The president of Big Steel has gone on record for an in-line increase. He has gone on record for continued production of steel without interruption by strikes. He has even gone on record with a statement that an increase of reasonable proportions could be handled without causing important price increases in products made of steel.

"I have never been able to understand," he said in Los Angeles, "why prices and wages can rise all around us without causing any great public concern, but the minute there is any talk of a wage-price rise in steel, a large number of honest but misguided gentlemen jump to the house-tops and start shouting that a disastrous inflation will result and that the country is on the high road to perdition. Such statements are simply not true."

If the steel industry's employees do not ask for too much in 1950, there will be no necessity for a strike as far as U.S. Steel Corp. is concerned.

Front door collectors are usually unpopular, yet a lot of people always ask them to come back.

Now don't you wish you had the money you saved on coal, gas or oil during the summer months.

It's almost always the failure who has been a success at dodging work.

If and when we need air raid wardens, we'll nominate the lady next door who always detects anything unusual in the neighborhood hours before it happens.

Council Of Europe

By JAMES MARLOW

Plan Not New; Is Far From Reality

WASHINGTON
THE IDEA of European unity—one government for all Europe, or a federation, or a United States of Europe—is not new.

It still is far from becoming a reality. But the Western European nations have taken at least one solid step in that direction by setting up a "Council of Europe."

You can see why this council is a long way from being one-government-for-all. It lacks the power to make any of its members—the nations taking part—do anything against its will.

As long ago as 1930 the French proposed a European federal union. Nothing happened.

In 1940, when France was collapsing under the Nazi attack, Winston Churchill, then British prime minister, offered the French union and common citizenship with Britain. Nothing done.

After the war a number of unofficial groups were organized to push the European unity idea, through federation or in some other way. For example:

IN JANUARY, 1947 Winston Churchill formed a United European committee; in March, 1947, the Independent League of European Federalists was created; in April, 1947 the Union of European Federalists was set up; and the European Parliamentary Union was started in September, 1947 by Count Richard Coudenhove Kalergi.

(All this got an added push from the U.S. senate which in March, 1947, approved a resolution offered by Senator Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, saying: "Congress favors the creation of a United States of Europe within the framework of the United Nations.")

In December, 1947, the various movements above teamed up in an "International Committee for the Coordination of Movements For European Unity."

(At this time the nations of Western Europe were getting together in the economic field to work out their needs for help under this country's Marshall Plan).

This "International Committee For Coordination" held its first conference in May, 1948, agreed there should be a European assembly and in August, 1948 urged Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to take the lead in setting up such an assembly.

Those five nations established a special committee on European unity and it met in November, 1948. They had different views but reached a compromise.

Britain wanted a council of ministers from the various countries of Europe. France held out for an assembly composed of delegates from those countries.

THE RESULT was the present council of Europe which is made up this way:

1. A committee of the foreign ministers of each member country, meeting in secret.

2. A consultative assembly to which the member nations send delegates who meet in public.

The first session of this council's assembly met on Aug. 1, 1949. It met again last August, will meet again this month.

From the beginning the ministers have been pretty much the main cog in the machine, even to the point of limiting what the assembly can discuss.

The assembly delegates have chafed under the restraint, want more power independent of the ministers.

Even so, the council as it is set up has no real power. No nation which is a member of the council has to follow the recommendations of the assembly.

NEVERTHELESS, while the assembly may seem only a debating society, it is still a place where the delegates can represent public opinion in Europe.

They can air a lot of Europe's problems and desires. The assembly has already recommended much closer economic cooperation among the nations taking part in the council.

And early this month the committee of foreign ministers signed in Rome an agreement on human rights. If eight governments formally approve, a court of human rights can be set up.

Then nations—but only the member-nations of the council—and individuals can lay before this court what they consider to be violations of human rights.

Fifteen nations are taking part in this council of Europe: Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Italy, Ireland, Iceland, Greece, Turkey, the Saar, and the Western German Republic.

Dispatch From R. F. D.

By TRUMAN TWILL

SOMEWHERE in R.F.D.—Hunting season opened here. We had buckshot with our Wheaties. Can hardly write this because of the shakes. It is always this way for the first few days of the bombardment.

An hour after sunrise the countryside was ablaze. All ambulances had been made ready for round-the-clock duty. The natives with their dogs kept them on the job had dug in for the duration.

The Perkinses, who had three windows shot out last year on the second day of hunting season, will spend the next month visiting relatives in the South. They boarded up the windows this year and put a scarlet fever sign on the front door.

The Jacksons are going to weather it out in spite of losing Grandma Jackson three years ago. Mr. Jackson purchased a supply of cannon crackers last Independence Day to stage a counterattack. The crackers scare away the game from the vicinity of the house, though they have no effect on the hunters. Grandma Jackson was attacked by a frantic rabbit while en route to the mail box. She contracted rabbit fever and died three days later from over-exercising.

Preceding the opening of hunting season many friendly visitors from town were out here getting acquainted with the local gentry, asking permission to return with firearms on and after Nov. 15. It is hard to say no to these friendly people and hardly worth the trouble. If they do not take potshots at the livestock someone else will. It is better to be shot by someone you have met before.

The Buchanans have figured out that the safest place to stay until the pheasants have had a chance to hide in their barn, which has a metal roof. When the buckshot rattles on the roof, that is the signal to stay under cover until the skirmish is over. There has been so much talk about not shooting game wearing red caps that the Harmsworths bought red caps for their pigs. This will keep the pigs from being mistaken for rabbits, they hope. Two years ago a trigger-happy visitor shot one of their cows, thinking it was a grouse. Said he never had seen a grouse before. Admitted he hadn't seen a cow either.

The township schools are under a heavy handicap. What with all the older boys absent in pursuit of game and the girls sobbing because they may be winged by a stray blast, American history is too tame to be worth the trouble.

It is nice to see so many dogs having fun. Gives the local mutts a chance to visit with old friends they haven't seen since the last strays from the 1949 invasion were rounded up. A fellow gets the impression that dogs have more fun when hunting season opens than hunters do. The dogs do not get shot. They do not even get half shot.

Must close now and go see how many fences have been knocked down and how many gates have been left open. Also to get the names of hunters left on the field of battle and notify next of kin. This is great training for atomic warfare.

"I'll Hafta Take It Up With the Boss!"

War Will Affect Presidential Race

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
PRESIDENT Truman wisely retrained Thursday from saying whether or not he will be a candidate to succeed himself in 1952.

If he had done otherwise—that is, if he had said he wouldn't run—the whole political structure of the administration would have crumbled overnight. Prospective candidates would have entered the field and rivalry and factionalism inside the administration would have developed immediately.

Even though the President does decide to run, it may be doubted whether he will be free from opposition. In 1948 there was a sizable dissent in the Democratic party—including the radical wing—which used the name of General Eisenhower in an attempt to block the nomination of Mr. Truman.

One thing American politics has established almost as a truism—any president, irrespective of party, can bring about his own renomination. The federal office-holders who owe their appointment to an incumbent President have enough power in gathering delegates to assure a president of renomination at the party's convention.

The talk that Mr. Truman might not choose to run stems largely from a belief that he is not anxious to go beyond the almost normal period of service that he will have had. Mr. Roosevelt was inaugurated for a fourth term on January 20, 1945, and Mr. Truman took oath on April 12 of that year. Thus he has had a term of four years lacking about three months plus the four-year term to which he was elected in 1948.

THE DEMOCRATIC party has traditionally opposed a third term except during a national emergency. The war was the basis for the continuance of Mr. Roosevelt in office beyond the accustomed two terms and indeed into a third and a fourth term.

It could happen that the United States would be involved in a war in 1952 and the Democrats would urge Mr. Truman to run ment to an incumbent President. The war was the basis for the continuance of Mr. Roosevelt in office beyond the accustomed two terms and indeed into a third and a fourth term.

ment to an incumbent President. The war was the basis for the continuance of Mr. Roosevelt in office beyond the accustomed two terms and indeed into a third and a fourth term.

It could happen that the United States would be involved in a war in 1952 and the Democrats would urge Mr. Truman to run because a national emergency existed, arguing that a change of administration would be a disadvantage to the national interest.

But if there is no more of an emergency than prevails today, it would be difficult for the politicians to justify the demand for a third term. Certainly it may be expected that, if Mr. Truman is going to run, the momentum would be increased behind the constitutional amendment which was passed by two-thirds of both houses but has not yet received the requisite three-fourths vote of the state legislatures. This amendment does not specifically prohibit Mr. Truman from trying for a third term but such an amendment actually in the constitution by 1952 would pretty well establish the principle in people's minds.

IF THERE IS a war emergency, there is likely to be a demand for General Eisenhower to head the Republican or the Democratic ticket—somewhat as was the case in 1948.

While at the moment Senator Taft is being talked of as a likely Republican nominee for the presidency, the simple rules of presidential politics would probably apply. If the Democratic party is unpopular in 1952 so that any Republican is certain to win anyhow, the Republican party leaders will be inclined to go along with the Ohio senator or some other man who has had a career in national affairs on the Republican side.

If, on the other hand, the Republican party is not popular and the Democrats have strengthened themselves politically by 1952, the demand for Eisenhower will be heard as a "big name" to override all other considerations. Much depends, therefore, on what the Congress just elected does and how the country reacts to the policies pursued by President Truman himself in the next two years.

One Man's Opinion
By WALTER KIERNAN
CHRISTMAS lists are beginning to come out—Mr. Truman did want a solid Democratic Congress but his second choice is four billion dollars.

He said that would be quite acceptable at his time but he would like more a little later—say January.

There do not seem to be any new sources to tap for taxes but business still has color in its cheeks and is believed ready to give another transfusion.

This will be known as the "excess profits tax"—"excess" in this case meaning "you mean to tell me you've still got profits left!"

The idea is to put our darned economy on a "pay-as-you-go" basis—there is no doubt that we will pay as we go but we're not quite sure where we're going.

Last I heard we were in winter quarters in Korea and planning on staying through spring.

There's no telling when other travel literature will arrive.

Statistics show that alcohol is a factor in from seven to ten percent of all driver and pedestrian accidents.

Surprise

Main Weapon Of Guerrillas

KOREAN Reds have opened a guerrilla "second front" far behind the main battle lines in Korea.

They are using tactics perfected over many years in Russia and China. U.S. Army intelligence officers say they are organized, have a central command and coordinate their raids with Red battlefront movements.

The Communist guerrillas are groups bypassed when United Nations forces broke out of the Pusan beachhead in southeast Korea and swept north in September and October.

Their main effort apparently is concentrated in a triangle formed by Chorwon, Incheon and Pyongyang in west-central Korea.

Intelligence officers said the guerrillas' chief objectives are to disrupt U.N. supply lines to the northern fronts and to obtain food, clothing and equipment for continued operation.

The guerrillas have five main targets—command posts, supply installations, artillery positions, main supply routes and American officers of the Korean military advisory groups.

It is a war of stealthy movement with few fixed positions.

The United States 25th Division and the Turkish and Philippine brigades are in the main area of guerrilla operations. The G.I.'s hit the Korean irregulars a severe blow Thursday at Wacho when artillery blew up a command post. Fires apparently exploded ammunition stores cached in nearby houses. The Reds then disappeared into the hills.

THE KOREAN guerrillas probably had experience in operations against the Japanese during 50 years of occupation. And they can draw on a vast fund of experience accumulated by Chinese Communists in two decades of hit-run warfare against the Chinese Nationalists. This can be supplemented by the experience accumulated by Russian guerrillas who operated behind the German lines in World War II.

The guerrillas' main weapon is surprise. They avoid combat with a superior force except when he is unprepared.

A textbook of the Chinese Communists puts it this way:

"When the enemy sleeps, strike. When he attacks, run away."

For the most part the Korean guerrillas try to get their weapons from the enemy.

They take clothing off bodies of their victims whenever possible. Consequently, the Korean guerrillas frequently look like American-equipped South Korean troops when caught.

In the present "ghost war" the Reds have two great advantages:

The mountainous terrain, honeycombed with ravines and draws and full of caves, is hard to police. A large band can easily split up into small groups and literally disappear.

MOREOVER, the North Koreans appear to be getting some supplies from the main fighting forces to the northwest. AP Correspondent Leif Erickson reported U.N. troops found an ammunition cache in one cave of 300,000 rounds of mortar and artillery shells. The army seized 57 tons of food in a warehouse.

In cases where capture appears likely the guerrillas hide their weapons, change into civilian clothes and suddenly become ordinary "farmers." There are methods of detecting these changes. But for security reasons they cannot be disclosed.

So far, the guerrillas have succeeded in tying up a certain number of American and other U.N. troops. They have ambushed convoys on the supply routes. They are a threat American intelligence says, particularly as they shift the center of their efforts farther north toward the real battle front.

They have been trying to induct recruits and train new people.

How much success they have had is problematical, intelligence said.

In most instances, information about the whereabouts of the guerrillas and often about their plans for attack come from North Korean citizens.

Anti-guerrilla forces are being organized and trained by the U.N. so that the South Koreans themselves can deal with the problem.

Music Study Club Sponsors Benefit Musical Tea Friday

MRS. M. A. YORK was general chairman for a delightful benefit musical tea Friday afternoon in the public library assembly room.

The tea was sponsored by the Salem Music Study club, and Mrs. Nelson Bailey, president, introduced the guest entertainers, Mrs. Clayton Tope of Carrollton, junior counselor for the Middle East District of Federated Music Clubs of Ohio, and Irene Farrell, also of Carrollton, federated club pianist.

Mrs. I. K. Saltsman of Carrollton, vice president of the state federation, was a guest.

Mrs. Tope reviewed the book, "From the Top of the Stars" (Gretchen Finletter). The story centers around the homelife of Walter Damosch, American musician and orchestra conductor, his wife and their four lively daughters.

Mrs. Tope gave a vivid description of some of the humorous incidents in the narrative.

The tea table was centered with a beautiful autumn arrangement which featured tall tapers. Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. L. B. Harris poured.

Approximately 75 guests were served, including some from Hanoverton, Columbiana, Leetonia and Damascus.

Assisting Mrs. York were Miss Helen Dertus, Mrs. Donald Dusenberry and Mrs. Marie Fawcett. The social committee—Mrs. Dusenberry, chairman; Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. Raymond Stiver, Mrs. Raymond Mackall, Mrs. J. W. Hundertmark and Miss Hilda Franke served the refreshments.

Miss Lutsch, a graduate of Salem High school, is employed in the business office of The Salem News. Her fiancé attended Minerva High school and is now employed as a kilnman by the Cronin China Co., Minerva. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Lutsch was complimented with a delightful surprise party Thursday evening given by her mother at their home. Mrs. Lutsch was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Robert Lora.

The party celebrated Marjorie's birthday and she was given many pretty gifts by 20 guests who were relatives and neighbors. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the social period.

Forum Class Dinner Depicts School Days

Miss Margaret Bryan was "school teacher" at the entertaining presentation of school days at the dinner meeting of the Presbyterian Forum class Thursday evening in the church. Seventy adults and children were present.

Pupils were other members of the class which is taught each Sunday morning by E. S. Vincent. A "Who Am I?" game also provided entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Early and Miss Bryan arranged the games and Mr. and Mrs. Gale Dougherty, Mrs. Harry Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pearson and Mrs. Robert Keller were in charge of the dinner.

A chili supper is planned for the next meeting Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Kelly on Tolerton lane.

Stork Shower Honors Mrs. Leslie Burbick

A miniature "stork on chimney" arrangement was significant of the nature of the shower party held Friday evening for Mrs. Leslie Burbick of Cleveland in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Parker on the New Garden rd.

The 32 in the company included friends from Millville, Winona and Salem and the gifts they brought for Mrs. Burbick were arranged around the stork and chimney.

A vocal selection, "Mighty Like a Rose," was sung by Mrs. H. B. Winn and Mrs. Raymond Rober entertained with an appropriate reading, "Boy or Girl." Mrs. Loren Pim assisted the hostess with the games and the refreshments.

Favors were tiny storks, made of safety pins, and little lamb and teddy bear cookies, made by Mrs. Norman Pim, also added to the effective appointments.

The eye-appealing cranberry festival cake can be baked right in your own kitchen. It's a good way to enjoy the new pack of cranberry sauce now reaching our markets.

It is an upside-down cake with ruby red cranberry sauce and orange juice spooned into the bottom of the pan and covered with the tender instant cake mix. As simple as four ingredients—a cake celebrity worthy of your attention.

CRANBERRY CAKE
1 package instant cake mix
1 one-pound can whole cranberry sauce
1/3 cup orange juice
Prepare cake mix according to directions on package. Combine cranberry sauce and orange juice and spoon over bottom of square, 8-by-8-by-2-inch heat resistant glass baking dish. Spoon cake batter carefully over cranberry orange mixture. Bake at 375 F. for 40 to 50 minutes. When cake has cooled thoroughly cut in squares and serve with or without whipped cream.

Stakes High For Ohio In Illinois Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—While Illinois and Ohio State were battling it out at Champaign, Ill., today, three of college football's longest winning streaks went on the line—and all were expected to add one more triumph to their records.

With the scent of the Rose Bowl coming closer by the hour the California Bears tackled San Francisco, a team that has caused little worry in the line of the Bruins, who boasts a streak of 32 regular season triumphs. California has lost two Rose Bowl clashes in between.

California, if it gets past Stanford next week, will be the Pacific Coast Conference champion and Rose Bowl host for the third straight year.

PITY STANFORD. California next week and Army this. No rest for the weary here. The Palo Alto Indians have won five last two and tied one in eight games, and they were the short ends against the Cadets who were shooting for their 28th game without defeat. Army had two ties on its record.

Earl Blaik's legions, dropped from the No. 1 spot to third in this week's Associated Press poll despite a 51-0 triumph over New Mexico last week, were seeking to regain some prestige.

Oklahoma, out for No. 29 in a row, entertained Missouri in a big seven game. Of the three, the No. 2 Sooners had the best record, looking at it from the point of view of consecutive triumphs. Oklahoma ruled a three-touchdown favorite.

The stakes were high for both Ohio State and Illinois. For the Buckeyes, rated No. 1 in the AP poll, the Big Ten championship hung in the balance; for the Illini, the plum was a trip to the Rose Bowl. If Ohio State won, the chances were that Wisconsin would make the trip to the Pasadena classic.

OHIO STATE was a seven-point favorite, mainly on its terrific offensive power that has averaged 41.6 points a game. The big gun, of course, has been Vic Janowicz, Illinois, a tight defensive outfit that has given up just 35 points through the entire season, was hoping Johnny Karas' injured ankle would be in tip-top shape. Then, said Illini supporters, an upset might be in the making.

Kentucky and Princeton, two of the other major unbeaten and untied elevens, also anticipated no trouble. The respective opponents were North Dakota and Yale. Kentucky was seeking not only the Southeastern Conference title, but a bowl assignment, too. Princeton was interested only in the Ivy League championship, since that loop is allergic to post-season games.

Gavilan Is Top Welter Contender

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—Kid Gavilan is New York's No. 1 welterweight contender today but that designation is about as important as an admiral in the Swiss navy.

The Cuban keed with the flashing hands and feet was named crown prince among the 147-pounders by virtue of his 10 round decision over Irish Billy Graham in Madison Square Garden last night. It was a close fight with the two judges voting for Gavilan 6-4, and the referee, Barney Felix, balloting for a 4-4-2 draw.

Next on the keed's agenda is a 10 round bout with Tony Janiro, the classy Youngstown, O., middleweight, on the Cleveland Christmas Show Dec. 4. Janiro will be very tough, the kid admits. After that one, if all goes well for Gavilan, he will get a Garden shot on either Dec. 15 or 22 against Gene (Silent) Hairs-on-Paddy Young, both middleweights.

As for last night's tiff, witnessed by 6,567 paying customers ($20,092 gross gate) and several million television spectators around the country, it was just a fair scrap. There were no knockdowns, no real hard shots, and no damage.

Leon Yonders, a pocket billiards trick shot artist, will appear at the Recreation Billiards at 9:30 Monday evening. He shoots all shots with the cue behind his back and once ran 180 balls in that manner.

His exhibition is one of a series to be given here. Last Monday Jimmy Caras was the attraction.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

BACK we are after several days' off, and have you had the flu lately?

• The Boosters Club meeting Thursday night was attended by a magnificent throng of seventeen (17) men. What kind of a turnout is that?

• It seems ridiculous for the club leaders to put out the effort they do to conduct meetings for a handful of faithfuls. It might be wiser to call off the Booster program entirely.

• Not even the fathers of the basketball players showed up, save for three or four. At least they should have shown enough interest in a talk by the basketball coach to attend the meeting.

• The same guys who stay away in large numbers are those who constantly wail and gnash their teeth because Salem doesn't have an athletic program on a par with Massillon's, for instance.

• Well, when you take on Massillon in any sport, you play not only the team, but you tangle with the entire populace of the city. It is solidly behind the school. It's not so here.

• Almost all of the prominent men in Massillon take an active part in the Tigers' football program. They're really working before, at and after each of the games. They give up a lot of time.

• Here, in this "great sports town," you can't get more than 17 out for a meeting to hear the head basketball coach—and a new one, at that—make a talk. These local jokers would rather sit around their cracker barrels and talk about the "mighty teams of 1929 or 1926" than invest some time in the teams of 1950.

• Right now we have the Boosters annual football banquet coming up on Nov. 28. The ticket situation is normal: They aren't selling.

• To be honored is a fine football team, one that could have been really great if it had ever had a chance. So what do we do? Say the season is over and forget about it?

• Tim Hoppes, the Boosters hard-working president, and his committees will be beating their brains out in the next week to sell a measly 225 banquet tickets.

Charles Works Hard

CINCINNATI, Nov. 18—(AP)—Nick Barone, Syracuse, N. Y., scrapper who will fight heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles for the title here Nov. 28, has changed his plans and will arrive in Cincinnati Sunday.

Barone was scheduled to fly from New York yesterday, but decided to work out two more days there.

Charles, meanwhile, is going all-out as he prepares to defend his title. The Cincinnati Negro has a regular training routine outlined and is adhering strictly to it at all times. This includes maintaining a strict diet, roadwork, limbering-up exercises and as many as six or eight rounds of boxing with four or more sparmates.

Browns Ready For Redskins

Set To Make Marshall Eat His Predictions

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18—(AP)—So far, the only contest between the Washington Redskins and the Cleveland Browns has been a front office affair. Tomorrow, the teams will try football for a change.

The Redskins, of course, are owned by laundryman George Preston Marshall. He used to pooh-pooh the old All-American Conference, of which the Browns were champs all four years, as the "only real amateurs in American sports."

Marshall also said: "The Browns couldn't beat a single team in the National League."

UNFORTUNATELY for Marshall, it hasn't worked out that way. The Browns have defeated seven National League teams and are at the top of the American conference.

Washington, on the other hand, beat the Baltimore Colts, dropped the next seven games and sits firmly at the bottom of the standings.

Another feature of this front office quarrel was Coach Paul Brown's refusal to approve allowing backfield coach Tommy Mont to play quarterback tomorrow for Washington.

The Redskins needed him because of injuries to the regular quarterbacks, Sammy Baugh and Harry Gilmer.

"They tell me George Marshall is getting his boys steamed up because of this Mont case," said Brown.

He said he has troubles of his own, too. Chubby Grigg, Abe Gibrion, Bill Willis and Lin Houston have complained of various aches and pains this week, but Brown plans to play them, nevertheless.

SO FAR as that goes, Gilmer probably will be ready to play, too, the Redskins' general manager, Dick McCann, told reporters. But he cautioned he won't be at his best because of a sore shoulder.

The Browns have three games left, two with Washington and one with the Philadelphia Eagles. The Eagles and the New York Giants, tied for second place in the American division, must play each other twice.

Morris Kono, assistant trainer of the Browns, seems pretty sure the champs will win tomorrow. He reported this to Brown after the team tossed him fully-clothed into the showers as he delivered a stack of towels.

"They're ready, Paul," Morris solemnly advised.

Ram-Yank Encounter Draws Attention

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—The two highest scoring teams in the National Football league tangle tomorrow when Coach Joe Stydahar leads his rampaging Los Angeles Rams into Yankee stadium to do battle with the New York Yanks.

Six games are on tap, but this Los Angeles-New York ruckus figures as the main dish of the afternoon before a crowd expected to pass 40,000.

Los Angeles, which has won seven of nine games, leads the National conference, half a game ahead of the Yanks and Chicago Bears, each with six victories and two losses.

With the schedule rapidly running out, this is a key game for none of the contenders for the championship can afford to lose a third time.

Barring an upset, the day of reckoning will be postponed another week in the American conference. The Cleveland Browns top that division with seven victories against two defeats. The runners-up are the Philadelphia Eagles, defending champions, and the New York Giants. They, too, have won six and lost two games.

The Washington Redskins travel to Cleveland to meet the Browns, the Chicago Cardinals play at Philadelphia, the Giants

STRIKES TO SPARE

A new mixed foursome bowling league will begin play at 6:45 p. m. Sunday at the Bowling Center. Ten teams have been lined up and will compete Sunday.

Joe Cheeke of Gonda's in the National Section of the Q. C. League had a sharp 597 series Monday night to lead the loop. He boosted the set with a big 234 in the last game. Goode of Ray's Tavern had a 564.

Joe Potts of Gonda's and Chuck Malloy of Malloy Ins. each posted 559's for third place.

HOLD TURKEY SHOOT

The Salem Hunting Club will hold a turkey and chicken shoot at the club grounds at 2 p. m. Sunday. The public is invited.

The Big 7 champion Oklahoma Sooners nevertheless had 35 fumbles recovered by opponents in 1948 to set a college football record.

Drake's 1949 football team was penalized 103 times for 917 yards, a new college record.

Bible Class To Be Host To Lutherans

LEETONIA, Nov. 18—The I. F. Mellinger class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will entertain the men of nearby Lutheran churches at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8.

Rev. M. C. Stull, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church of Youngstown, will be the guest speaker. The committee in charge of arrangements are John Theil, Charles S. Anglemeyer, Warren G. Weikart, S. Hayes Sittler and Rev. T. P. Laughner.

JERRY RENKENBERGER (above), Salem organist, is accompanist for the music in the revival services at the East Goshen Friends church. Rev. Howard Moore, pastor, is preaching and Kenneth Phillips of Damascus is directing the music. The meetings will continue through next week.

THE ANNUAL Thank-Offering Vesper service of the Mary Greenamyer missionary society of the Presbyterian church will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. Rev. John A. King, the pastor, will speak and Mrs. Ruth Nette, daughter of Rev. King, will sing. The missionary societies of the Methodist and Lutheran churches have been invited to take part in the program.

Leetonia Briefs:

The first All-High party of the year was held at the gymnasium Friday evening. The seniors had charge of the program; the juniors, entertainment; sophomores, refreshment, and freshmen, clean-up.

The Leetonia District schools will be closed Thursday and Friday, Nov. 23-24, for Thanksgiving vacation.

The South Side Sewing club was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Elsie McCarty.

Mrs. Verner Lucas and daughter of Pittsburgh are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson.

Washingtonville

Mrs. Henry Dermott was hostess to the Skip-a-Week club in her home Monday evening. Winning honors in "500" were Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Robert Schuck, Mrs. Glen Culler and Mrs. Harry Bell. Mrs. Schuck will entertain the group in two weeks.

Mrs. Lurene Brookshire left Wednesday for Gainesville, Fla., where she was called by the death of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Flanagan, wife of Rev. N. F. Flanagan. Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brookshire of Salem accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Tingle visited Tuesday in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hill of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McGaffie of Salem are the parents of a daughter born Thursday afternoon at Salem Central Clinic. Mrs. McGaffie is the former Shirley DeJanc.

The Busy Bees class of the Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. Larry Yerace Thursday evening, with Mrs. Leslie Tingle as hostess. Mrs. Norman Kornbau was in charge of the meeting. Contest winners were Mrs. Helen Archer, Mrs. Albert Ritchie, Mrs. Russell Weikart and Mrs. T. C. Riddle. Plans were made for a Christmas dinner and party, to be held Dec. 8 in Salem.

Mrs. Howard Stouffer entertained the South Side club in her home Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Albert Weikart and Mrs. Margaret Spear as guests. Winning honors in "500" were Mrs. Loran Weikart, Mrs. Lloyd Culler, Mrs. Margaret Spear and Mrs. Albert Ritchie. Mrs. Ritchie will entertain the club at the December meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker returned home Thursday after visiting their son, Robert, in Atlanta, Ga.

Alice Hinerman, Myrtle Baker and Ida Bailey attended the monthly party of the Crescent office girls at the Crescent Stables Monday night.

Mrs. L. J. Davis entertained the Fortnightly club in her home Wednesday night. Euchre was enjoyed, with Mrs. J. A. Stouffer, Myrtle Baker and Mrs. Rose Woods winning honors. Mrs. Fred Girard will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spothoff and Estelle Graham of Mt. Gilead were Wednesday evening dinner guests of Shirley Hinerman.

Thanksgiving services will be held at 9:30 Thanksgiving morning in the Methodist church, with Rev. R. D. Cunningham in charge.

Members of the Methodist church held a reception for their new minister and his wife in the church parlor Wednesday evening.

Civil Defense Needs Stressed

Program Calls For Up To 500 Persons

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 18—An estimated personnel of 300 to 500 will be required to man the civil defense program mapped by the defense council for Columbiana and vicinity, of which Mayor E. L. Calvin has appointed George Seederly chairman.

Among those with special skills who will be needed in emergencies are acetylene burners, bulldozer operators and first aid workers. Independent of the defense organization, a first aid class is now receiving instruction in City Hall every Tuesday evening, and a larger class is contemplated at the conclusion of the present course. Auxiliary police and water supply personnel will also be required, along with provision for receiving stations and temporary hospitals.

The defense council aims to help citizens realize the need of help in carrying out these plans. Another meeting will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 14 in City Hall, at which time there may be some definite information from the federal defense authorities.

COLUMBIANA Lodge, Knights of Pythias, was host Thursday evening to a meeting of Pythians of Ohio District No. 1 of the order, which was attended by about 75. The district embraces the area from northern Columbiana county to Canton on the west and to Lake Erie on the north. Among those in attendance from over the district were District Deputy, Grand Chancellor G. A. Gangwear of Warren, Trumbull County Deputy A. B. Palmer of Coleburg, Mahoning County Deputy M. O. Cyphert of Youngstown, Columbiana County Deputy L. H. Detrow of Salem and Past Grand Chancellor Frank Woods of Youngstown.

Visiting officers explained new legislation enacted by the Grand Lodge which met in Columbus in September and urged promotion of the membership drive. Mr. Woods brought from Youngstown the film, "Our Valleys Are Greener," which showed in color scenes from Trumbull, Mahoning and Columbiana county industries, parks, schools and business activities.

Lunch was served by a committee of Columbiana Lodge, Harvey Hisey, Robert Chesnut and H. D. Kurtz.

FAIRFIELD CENTRALIZED

High school students have accepted an invitation from Firestone American Legion post to participate in the post's weekly Le-Hi night, when the recreational facilities of the Legion home are placed at a disposal of High school students every Monday. Membership cards will be issued to students of Fairfield school, of whom a large percentage is expected.

Firestone post expects also to make available to the classes in government in the two schools its television equipment, which will bring to the students during their class periods views of their government in action.

Columbiana Briefs:

Mothers of the 1950 Clipper football squad will entertain the members, managers and coaches at a turkey dinner in the Presbyterian church at 5:30 p. m., today. Mrs. James W. Hall, wife of the coach, and Mrs. Frederick Roth, wife of the assistant coach, and fathers of the boys will be special guests.

Columbiana stores will be open all day Wednesday of next week on account of the Thanksgiving holiday, Thursday, when the banks and all business places will be closed. Banks will be closed Wednesday afternoon as usual.

York Drexler Post No. 5532, V.F.W., has presented Columbiana with a United Nations flag, to be flown from City Hall staff on nationally recognized holidays. The flag is blue and bears in white a world design emblem against the blue background. When flown, its position will be just under the American flag.

The tusks of the African elephant may reach a length of 10 feet, with a weight of 220 pounds.

PAUL G. HOFFMAN (left), former ECA head, smiles with Henry Ford II, chairman of trustees of the Ford foundation, in New York after announcement that Hoffman will be the first president of the new foundation, which is pledged to spend $238,000,000 to advance human welfare, world peace. Hoffman's salary, $75,000 a year.

Gunman

for," Ingenito said calmly and surrendered without a struggle.

On Ingenito's left wrist were razor wounds, not serious. On the car seat was a barber's type razor. Police said he had tried to commit suicide.

State police reconstructed this chronology of the shootings:

At 9 p. m. Ingenito went to the home of his father-in-law, Michael Mazzoli, and asked to see his two children, Ernest, Jr., 4, and Michael, 2.

Mrs. Ingenito told her husband he was prohibited under a court separation order from seeing the children.

Ingenito then shot his father-in-law, mother-in-law and wife. With the smoking weapon still in his hand, he dashed across the street to the Pioppi home. His wife's grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Pioppi, had heard the shots and was standing at her doorway.

Ingenito turned the gun on Mrs. Pioppi and also on Marion Pioppi, who came running to the door at that moment. Both fell dead.

The crazed gunman stepped over their bodies and walked to the kitchen. Seated around a table were three children—Jean Pioppi, 8, Armando Pioppi, 6, and Tessa Pioppi, one and a half. Sitting nearby was the children's great-grandfather, Armando Pioppi.

Ingenito levelled his weapon once more and opened fire. The three youngsters and elderly man dove for the cover of the table. Jean Pioppi was wounded.

Their assailant ran from the house, drove five miles to Minatola, N. J., and entered the home of Frank Mazzoli.

"I cleaned out the other family," Ingenito shouted. "I came here to get you."

Mazzoli and his wife fell in a blaze of gunfire.

By that time, police were already speeding to the Pioppi home. Someone there had put through a telephone call while the shooting was still in progress.

Police described Ingenito as quiet-spoken and pleasant-faced, said the trouble apparently stemmed from the Ingenito's family difficulties.

The young couple had been separated for several months, the state police officials said, and Mrs. Ingenito had obtained a court order to prevent her husband from visiting the children. The slightly built slayer served in the army during World War II but was never on overseas duty.

Pheasants Outsmart Hunters This Season

Slightly unfavorable weather and an inexplicable lack of cooperation from the pheasants themselves was the answer wildlife officials were giving to the early reports of poor opening day success for bird hunters in most sections of the state.

The reports, made by game management officials who conducted random canvasses throughout the state, and individual sources, revealed an unusually low kill of pheasants for an opening day.

Hunters reported seeing plenty of the birds, but added that they were flushing unusually fast and at distances which were out of gun range.

Pittsburghers Catch Up On News Again

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18—(AP)—Pittsburghers looked almost unbelievably but happily at their regular newspapers today—the first they have seen in 47 strike-bound days.

All three of Pittsburgh's dailies—the Post-Gazette, Sun-Telegraph and Press—moved into their accustomed routines.

Resumption of publication was made possible through an agreement reached yesterday between the three publishers and officers of the non-striking unions. The agreements provided a return to work and binding arbitration of claims for wages lost during the strike.

Newshawks had a field day with the first Post-Gazette editions.

First copies sold like hot cakes downtown.

Everybody on the street seemed to have a paper. Everybody was buying one.

Going home on the trolley everybody was reading and really enjoying it. At last the people had a paper to read.

Reported Circulation Manager Barney G. Cameron:

"We couldn't get enough papers out to meet the demand. We sold papers everywhere we could get them."

Mr. and Mrs. Red Blamer entertained Sunday at a fish fry in honor of Cornelius Hawkins who left Tuesday for the Army. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. Ellie Robbins of East Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cox and daughter and Joan Blamer.

Thursday evening dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Cox were Joan Blamer, Corky Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Red Blamer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson were Tuesday evening guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKarns.

Mr. and Mrs. William Maple, Jr., visited Monday evening in Canton.

The custom of throwing shoes at a newly-married couple is very old and believed to be a relic of the ancient practice of giving a shoe to another to symbolize transfer of possession.

16 Aliens At Ellis Island Freed On Bond

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—Sixteen aliens being held at Ellis island for deportation proceedings as subversives, under the new internal security act, have been ordered freed on bail. Three are officials of the Communist party.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled yesterday that the constitutional provision authorizing reasonable bail to accused persons was applicable in deportation proceedings.

In a separate case, Joseph Szgeti, noted concert violinist, also was held at Ellis island under temporary exclusion from the United States.

Wholesale Prices Hit All-Time High

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—(AP)—Wholesale prices hit the highest level on record during the week ending Tuesday.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported yesterday that the wholesale price index reached 171.1, which was 0.5 per cent above the previous August, 1948 peak. The index is based on the 1926 average equalling 100.

The new index was an advance of 0.6 per cent in one week and 8.7 per cent above the June 20 pre-Korean level.
